

Hamad Khalid Alabdolly

High School Student | Technology Enthusiast | Aspiring Software Developer

Profile

Motivated high school student from the United Arab Emirates with a strong passion for computer science, software development, artificial intelligence, cybersecurity, and educational technology. Experienced in developing personal projects, organizing ideas independently, and learning modern technologies through self-study and experimentation. Interested in leadership opportunities, technical communities, and building impactful technology solutions for students and communities.

Technical Skills

Programming & Development	Python, JavaScript, React, Next.js, Node.js
Areas of Interest	Artificial Intelligence, Cybersecurity, Linux Systems, Web Development
Tools & Platforms	GitHub, Telegram Bots, MongoDB, Linux, VS Code
Soft Skills	Leadership, Communication, Problem Solving, Self-Learning, Teamwork

Projects & Experience

UnionOS – Developed concepts and customization ideas for a Linux distribution inspired by modern operating systems using KDE and Kali Linux foundations.

HifzPro Quran Platform – Worked on a Quran memorization and repetition platform using Next.js with features such as progress tracking and interactive Quran tools.

Educational Academy Platform – Planned and developed ideas for an educational platform for science and mathematics students with organized learning resources.

Telegram Bots – Built and planned Telegram bots focused on productivity, Islamic reminders, quizzes, and time management features.

AI & Productivity Applications – Designed concepts for AI-powered productivity tools and student-focused applications to improve learning and focus.

Leadership & Activities

- Interested in promoting computer science and technology among students.
- Participated in technical learning activities and independent software projects.
- Preparing to contribute to local student technology communities and coding initiatives.
- Applicant for the ICSC Ambassador Program to support and encourage students in computer science.

Education

High School Student – Advanced Track
United Arab Emirates

Languages

- Arabic – Native
- English – Good Working Proficiency

This CV was prepared for academic, leadership, and ambassador program applications.